

Felicitation and Gala Networking Night

ABEC Exhibitions and Conferences Ltd is one of the market leaders in the exhibition and conference space. ACETECH, its flagship exhibition, is held across all major cities in India and it aims to bring people from the construction, architecture and design industry together under one roof. ACETECH offers a unique marketing vantage in this digital world that one lives in — the opportunity to meet, connect and build a rapport with current and prospective customers. The exhibitions are immensely popular in the industry circles. In order to aid and boost trade, ACETECH promotes the exhibition and collateral events and invites the trade commissioners and confederates from all countries to promote strong bilateral ties. The promotion of the exhibitors is not just restricted to the four-day exhibition, but it is a year-round effort through the means of ACETECH's other properties such as Design Wall, Connect, International Lighting Summit and The Global Green Summit. The concurrent conferences i.e. ILS and GGS held during the four-day exhibition offer a strong speaker line-up that draw interested visitors to the event. To celebrate and accredit innovation and technological breakthroughs, the biggest names from the industry are invited to be a part of this to acknowledge and honour the pioneers, the trendsetters, the talented and the brilliant minds from every facet of the architecture, construction and design industry. India's mainstream visionaries, respected builders, architects, designers, construction and product manufacturers had graced the occasion with their esteemed presence. Various renowned builders, interior designers, and the HNI's were also present on the other side of the podium on this night so as to socialise with their industry counterparts in the formal soiree. The event offered guests an opportunity to interact with industry bigwigs in order to exchange quick business tips and connect with them on a personal-professional level. ACETECH serves as an ideal platform to exhibit, exchange, invest and progress at an expeditious pace. Since its inception in 2006, the company has accomplished a grand scale of operation, with national as well as international associations to its credit.
